Printing & binding these books:

1. Print on card stock (most printers can handle 67 lb. paper).
2. Print the music (p. 23) on the BACK of p. 22 so that you can read the music as you hold up the book for your students. If you don't have the ability to print 2-sided, simply print the music on regular paper and glue it on the back of p. 22 (The End).
3. This book can be extended by letting each child look through the window page as you sing a verse about them. You could also hold up the laminated window page to any object in the environment! If you want to extend the learning opportunity in this way, print out an extra window page for laminating.
4. Use a razor blade or X-Acto knife to cut out the four window panes on each window page.
5. Laminate all pages.
6. Use a 3-hole punch at the BOTTOM of the book. This makes for extremely quick and easy turning of pages.
7. Bind with 3/4" loose leaf rings. These rings have small hinges and are simple to attach.
8. Watch your students' faces light up as they learn to sing this book with you!
